Rescue Squad Buys Equipment; Starts First Aid Class

New Machines Installed: Training Open to All Young Men

New life-saving equipment, purchased by funds raised at the dance given by the Antioch Rescue squad on August 26, has been installed in the squad truck, members said yesterday.

The new equipment consists of an E. & J. inhalator and respirator, and an S. O. S. machine for use in pneumonia cases. These are pronounced to be the latest and most effective appliances used in first aid and rescue work.

Will Train First Aid Class

A training class in first aid work will be started within the next few days, Rescue Squad members announced today. The training is open to all young men of the community, and applications should be filed with Captain Herman Holbek, Lieutenants Herman Rosing or Walter Scott, or with Harry Greenlee, instructor.

Dig Four Feet, Break Drain Pipe to Rescue Dog from 7-Day Prison

LOST—Male Wire-haired Terrier. Answers to Skippy. Reward: E. D. Bray, Lake Villa 3561.

Antioch News want-ads bring some excellent results... but it took some real digging, instead, to recover "Skippy," who belongs to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Whittemore of New Orleans, La., and whose loss was noted in the August 29 issue of the NEWS.

Skippy, a valued pedigree animal and a family pet, was lost during a visit the Whittemores were making with Mrs. Whittemore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Bray of Buena Park, Lake Villa.

During the course of the seven days and six nights that he was missing, the Whittemores, the Brays and their neighbors had fancied they occasionally heard a dog whining. Although they believed the dog they heard was one belonging to people who lived nearby, they were nevertheless greatly distressed, for it reminded them of the lost Skippy.

On Friday when a neighbor, Mrs. Grace Ellison, was standing in her yard she heard a muffled barking that seemed to come from the ground beneath her.

Remembering the lost dog, she called its owners and willing volunteers set to work digging down to a 10-inch drain pipe four feet beneath the surface. A hole was broken in the pipe a short distance in front of where Skippy was supposed to be. The dog, which could be glimpsed crouching in the cramped confines of the pipe, managed to drag himself forward until he could struggle out of the pipe and jump up to ground level.

His first acts were to walk around, stretching his cramped muscles, and then to amble over to a bowl of milk that had been placed in readiness for him.

Investigation showed that after entering the pipe, into which he had probably pursued some small animal, he had edged his way around an angle or bend, and was apparently unable to back out again. A light rain that fell during the time that he was imprisoned is believed to have saved his life by furnishing him with drinking water, while withholding a flow that would have been heavy enough to have drowned him.

While Skippy, who normally weighs around 12 or 14 pounds, had grown very thin and was also suffering from a bad cut on his throat, he was pronounced little the worse for his experience by Dr. G. W. Jensen, veterinarian to whom he was taken for examination after his rescue.

The Whittemores took him with them when they left on their return trip to New Orleans Monday.

Illinois Thought of Taxing the Bachelor

How old is a bachelor and what makes him a bachelor?

One Illinois legislator had definite views on these questions when he introduced a bill March 22, 1895, imposing a $25 poll tax on bachelors.

The proposed measure held that "all male persons of the age of 32 years or over... who are single and never have married" were liable under this law, according to an account noted by the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A. Bachelors 60 years or over, those convicted of a felony and the physically unfit, were specifically exempted. The bill provided that a bachelor could escape the tax if he proved he had proposed marriage to a female of marriageable age at least three times upon different occasions and had been refused each time.

Antioch High's Enrollment Is Lowered by 27

More Jobs Called Reason for Drop to 236 from Last Year's 263

This year's enrollment of 236 students at Antioch High school is somewhat lower than that of last year, Principal J. O. Austin reports. There were 263 registered at the opening of school last fall.

The decrease in enrollment was attributed by Austin to the fact that many who would otherwise be attending the school have secured jobs, or else are obliged to help their families operate farms or small businesses because of the scarcity of hired help.

Introduce New Courses

Three new courses are being introduced this year—journalism, oral reading for upperclassmen, and music history and appreciation.

At a faculty meeting called by Principal Austin Monday morning, plans and policies for the ensuing year were discussed.

Tuesday morning classes for freshmen were opened and tests in mental ability and silent reading were conducted.

Upper classmen's classes opened Wednesday, and today the school went on its regular schedule of classes. The school cafeteria was also opened for the first time today.

Grade School Has 167

Antioch Grade school opened Tuesday with an enrollment of 167.

The first grade has 32 pupils; the second and third 16 each; fourth and fifth 23 each; sixth 11; seventh 27 and eighth, 19.

Various types of dancing will be exhibited on the program, which will start at 8 o'clock, and Dorothy Ann will speak on the value of dancing to children from the health standpoint.

Dorothy Ann has made an extensive study of the dance profession with such teachers as Aurora Aniazza and the Casino studios for Spanish castanet; George Cole and Herman DeMuth for acrobatics and high kicks; Johnny Boyle, Jack Blue, Jack Donahue, Tommy Nip, Ned Wayburn, Billy Pirsch and Bill Robinson for tap, and Kobeleff, Tarasoff, Chester Hale and Albertina Raasch for toe and ballet.

Her pupils have appeared in a number of ballets, including a toe ballet that was presented at the World's Fair and the Congress hotel in Chicago. Many of them are now teaching or have attained success in theatrical work, among them being Jerry Mills Adair, who formerly taught in Antioch and Libertyville and is now conducting a successful dance studio in California.

The old stand-bys—the greased pole and greased pig contests will bring out many contestants, and there are to be unique special entertainment features and contests not only for firemen and farmers but also for all who attend. Proceeds from many special events will go to the various fire departments, Knickelbein states.

The Dixons formerly lived on Route 173, just east of Antioch, but had for some time made their home in Waukegan.

Antioch Youths Take a "Second" in Third Race Sunday at Wauconda

A "jalopy" entered by Robert Bemis, Calvin Harden, Harold Gaston and Robert Gaston in the races at Wauconda Sunday afternoon was hailed by a cheering section of about 80 fans as it captured the runner-up spot in the third race of the day, Frank Veath of Barrington took first place.

Bud Allen of Crystal Lake captured the feature 25-lap race which was the grand finale. Leonard Kranz of Arlington Heights, a leader during the racing season, finished third in the feature event and second in the consolation run to capture a total of 2,500 points for the annual racing trophy.

Al Wakonoff of North Chicago captured the first race of the day, with Hap Kelder of Crystal Lake second. Henry Sinkler, Chicago, and Will Herdel of Deerfield finished in that order in the second race.

The Antioch youths' pleasure over winning the $4 second prize money in the third race was considerably dampened during their trip homeward when they were "picked up" by state police and fined $8 for not having license plates on their jalopy.

Antioch Squad Recovers Body of Drowned Youth

Thomas Wisbarth, 23, of Cleveland, Victim of Accident Sun. at L. Marie

The body of Thomas Wisbarth, 23, of Cleveland, O., who was drowned in a boating accident on Lake Marie Sunday afternoon, was recovered from 25 or 30 feet of water by the Antioch Rescue squad Wednesday noon at 12:10 o'clock. The body was brought to the surface when it was caught by drag hooks on a boat operated by R. F. Allner of the squad.

A verdict of death by accidental drowning was returned at an inquest conducted by Coroner John L. Taylor in Strang's funeral home in Antioch Wednesday afternoon. The body is being sent to Cleveland for burial.

Kenoshans Aid

The Antioch men had been dragging for the body since the accident occurred. The Kenosha coast guard assisted Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning. The Kenosha Rescue squad had arrived yesterday noon and was about to start dragging operations also in cooperation with the others, when the body was recovered.

Wisbarth was one of a party of five riding in a motorboat piloted by Mrs. Walter Schaub of Chicago. As the boat made a sudden turn, Mrs. Irene Barrett of Wilmette were hurled into the water.

They were saved by Edward Celestis, 22, of Cicero, who was vacationing at the R. C. Jepson home on Lake Marie and was in a sailboat nearby. Celestis leaped into the water and aided Mrs. Loos, who was clinging to her child, to stay afloat and also managed to seize Miss Barrett by the hair. Aided by Mrs. Schaub, who shut off the motor of the boat and plunged into the water to aid the others, he managed to keep them afloat until they could be picked up by a boat and taken ashore, where the Antioch Rescue squad was called to give them first aid.

It was then noticed for the first time that Wisbarth, whom other members of the party had thought they had last observed to be endeavoring to maneuver the motorboat into a better position to aid in the rescue, was missing, and the search for him was started immediately.

ANTIOCH LEGION POST TO HAVE HEADQUARTERS AT NATIONAL CONVENTION

A bulletin received this week by Antioch Legionnaires states that Adjutant John Horan has made arrangements to have an Antioch Post headquarters within a short distance of the center of activities during the national convention in Milwaukee starting Sept. 14, and running for four days. A corner in the basement of the Avenue Cocktail Bar, 627 West Wisconsin avenue, has been reserved for Legionnaires and their friends from Antioch. The telephone number is Broadway 9837.

Legion stickers for cars may be obtained from the adjutant.

No doubt time and weather will soon dull the effect... but have you noticed the gorgeous antique-gold spire of the Antioch Methodist church (newly covered with copper), rising out of the green trees?

A lady who deposited some pants (her son's) on the stairway leading up to Eddie the Tailor's place the other day had kind of a scare when she came back from a little shopping session and found E. the T. still not back from lunch... but the pants gone. A little research relieved her feelings considerably... when she found them on the steps of the Brogan apartment building to the north... where she'd put them in the first place.

ATTENTION, LADIES

All ladies wishing to bowl or enter a team in handicap bowling league at the Antioch Recreation Rooms, are advised to attend a meeting at the Masonic dining room, 885 Main street on September 10, at 8:30 p. m.

Roosevelt Luck

Some people seem to have all the luck. Of course, being kin to the President of the United States helps a bit, too.

When Mr. Roosevelt returned from his famous secret conference with Mr. Churchill off the Maine coast, he carefully explained to newspapermen that the reasons his sons Elliott and Franklin Junior were included in the historic gathering was that he "just happened to catch them at the scene." They were on board escorting naval vessels.

That certainly was some coincidence, especially since Elliott is a Captain (remember?) in the Army Air Corps Procurement Division. Elliott certainly was lucky, as an Army procurement man, to be cruising around with the Navy. Not many Army men have that kind of luck, at least at such an important moment.

One wonders how the President "happened to catch" them. Did he spot his sons waving handkerchiefs at him from some distant vessel, or could he have known about their presence all along? In any event, he appointed his sons special White House aides for the occasion and they were all ready with their aigulettes (gold braid to you) on a moment's notice.

Anyway, one can hardly blame the President for showing favoritism to his sons. It is a natural human instinct. But why pretend it was just a lucky coincidence?

It seems odd to us that the administration should get sore about the post cards Senator Wheeler sent out. After all, the first statement on the post card was by President Roosevelt. Trouble was, though, it was a campaign promise.

Whose Fault?

Another clarification call to the people to wake up has come from President Roosevelt.

Not permitting direct quotation, the President told a recent Press conference that it was imperative for the American people to realize they had a major struggle on their hands if the fight of the democracies against Nazism was to be won.

This exhortation implies that the people do not fully realize the gravity of the situation—that they are being negligent in some fashion. What we would like to know is, "Just what should the people be doing that they are not doing?"

Cheerfully the families of America have submitted to separation from their sons for an indefinite period. Cheerfully they are prepared to pay the huge taxes rendered necessary not so much by the Defense Program as by years of frivolous spending by the New Deal bureaucracy. The great mass of the American people have contributed willingly and eagerly to the announced aim of the Administration's policy—self-defense. They have given up their old pots and pans and are ready in the East to give up regular driving habits to conserve gasoline. What, then, is lacking?

Is it not that the people are becoming bitter and disillusioned by the President's own failure to realize the seriousness of the situation? What pet project of his has been sacrificed in the interest of National Defense? Why is it that he blithely permits non-defense spending to continue and even to increase? Why is he incapable of realizing what every man in the street knows—that we are being betrayed in our Defense Effort not by the great mass of the people, but from above, by the President's inability to unsnarl the red tape of Washington and get things done? Why can the President not forget personal jealousy and appoint a head for the defense effort with undivided power?

People who live in White Houses should not throw mud, Mr. President!

A Difference

Mrs. Roosevelt writes: "Today the boy in a 'gob' uniform or the boy in khaki without any stripes may be your boy or mine."

He may be one of our boys, Mrs. Roosevelt, but apparently not one of yours.

Editor's note: Although only one had any previous military or naval experience—and that one at Harvard College—all four of the Roosevelt sons hold commissions in the Army, the Navy or the Marine Corps. Nor are they, apparently, required to submit to the usual military and naval discipline, even for officers, for they seem to go about as they please and bob up in the most unexpected places.

Crackpots at Work

The United States is being run today from Washington, by the crackpots of immature mind with whom the President has surrounded himself, and in whom, even in time of national crisis, he continues to repose his confidence.

I am certain in my own mind, from having observed them over a long period of time, that if these bureaucrats are left in charge of the national destiny there will be tragic disaster.

—George Rathwell Brown, N. Y. Journal-American.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 31.

The Golden Text was, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" (Romans 1:16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whether thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me" (John 14: 5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Is it not a species of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony? But mortals did need this help, and Jesus pointed the way for them" (p. 494).

Franklinia Tree

The famous Franklinia tree (Franklinia alatamaha x Marshall) has not been found growing in the wild anywhere since 1790. In 1765 John Bartram, a friend of Benjamin Franklin, was exploring in the woods of southeastern Georgia. In the vicinity of Fort Barrington he found a beautiful tree whose gorgeous blossoms, over three inches in diameter, resembled those of the camellia. He introduced the tree into his own famous garden in Philadelphia, naming it after his celebrated friend. All the known descendants of the tree, growing in cultivation, have come down from the specimens brought to Philadelphia.

Checkup on Lighting

Because shorter days mean that most workers have to drive home after sunset, motorists are urged to give special attention to the efficiency of their lighting equipment. Headlights should be checked to comply with the law and tail lights should be inspected to see that they are in working order and are bright enough to be visible at a distance of 500 feet. Motorists should also remember that they are now required by law to use the lower headlight beams when coming within 500 feet of an approaching car.

Pound of Feathers
There is considerable difference in weight between a pound of gold and a pound of feathers. Gold is weighed by the troy system, in which there are 12 ounces to the pound, while feathers are weighed by the avoirdupois measure, in which there are 16 ounces to the pound. A troy pound, therefore, is less than the avoirdupois pound.

Protecting Mahogany Table
Dish rings, also called potato rings because invented by the Irish silversmiths, in the last half of the Eighteenth century, were ornamental stands for circular wooden bowls. Their purpose was to protect the polished mahogany table from the hot bowls. They were usually placed in the middle of the table all during the meal to hold the various dishes.

Pressure Cooking
Pressure answers the problem of families that wish to cut down on their butcher bills. A small pressure cooker is soon to be available which cooks at 15 pounds vapor pressure. It makes it possible to cook, and make tender, cheaper cuts of meat, in a fraction of the usual cooking time.

Open Window Urged
Car windows should be open at least an inch or two, even in the coldest weather. Carbon monoxide sometimes collects in closed cars and menaces the driver. Carbon monoxide can make you drowsy and fatigued and in extreme cases cause death.

Name United States
The name "United States of America" was suggested by the Continental Congress, which, on September 7, 1776, resolved: "That in all continental commissions where the words 'United Colonies' have been used, the style be altered for the future to 'United States.'"

Thornless Hybrid Tea Rose

When fruit is in season, the juices may be extracted and canned for later use in jelly making.

Law on the Farm

By H. W. Hannah

(Associate in Farm Management, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Member of Illinois Bar.)
Facts and Fallacies about Farm Leases

Many farm landlords and tenants sign their leases for another year around the last of August. Questions frequently arise as to the legal steps necessary to the validity of such leases. The following are essential:

1. The date the term is to begin and end.
2. The amount of the rent.
3. Signatures of the lessor and lessee.

4. An adequate description of the land.

5. Language showing that the instrument is intended to transfer possession and use of the land to the tenant for agricultural purposes.

The following are not essential, but are desirable:

1. A clause providing for renewal of the lease or continuing it automatically in the absence of notice.
2. Designation of the place where rent will be paid.
3. A legal description of the land.
4. General agreement as to cropping plans.
5. Specification of a notice period.
6. A clear statement of the contributions of each party to the enterprise, including division of seed and harvesting expense, hauling of materials, furnishing of skilled labor, and other items.
7. A provision for reimbursing the tenant for unexhausted improvements made by him in case he moves before getting full benefit from them.

The following are unnecessary, but may be included if the parties desire:

1. Recordation of the lease.
2. Sealing.
3. Acknowledgement.
4. Attestation.
5. Notarization.
6. Filing.
7. The signatures of witnesses.
8. A clause prohibiting assignment or subleasing without the consent of the lessor. There are cases in which it may be desirable to include this provision.

A landlord has been held to have the following rights with respect to a rented farm, unless these rights have been altered by a written lease:

1. To sell it subject to the oral or written lease.
2. To make needed repairs.
3. To prevent the tenant or others from injuring or removing the land, buildings or other improvements.
4. To come on the land for necessary inspection, repair work or construction, to collect rents and to deliver notices to the tenant.
5. To sue persons injuring the real estate.
6. To prevent the removal of manure from the farm.
7. To sue for damage to tile lines or fences.
8. To make a neighboring owner repair his portions of a division fence.
9. To protect his title by any legally recognized means.

Unless otherwise specified in the lease, a landlord does not have the following rights with respect to rented farm land:

1. To make daily visits to see how the tenant is getting along.
2. To sue trespassers (unless they

Federation Tells How Taxes Confiscate

Few Illinois property owners realize that in the space of twenty years the entire assessed value of the average parcel of real estate is completely consumed by direct taxation, but such is the case, according to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, Springfield. The portions of assessed valuation "eaten up" by real estate taxes, as shown in the accompanying chart, are based on compilations of the Illinois State Tax Commission and include state property tax in the years prior to 1933, plus taxes levied by road districts, townships, counties, cities, villages, school districts, forest preserve districts, levee districts, park districts, sanitary districts, tuberculosis control authorities, libraries, mosquito abatement districts, fire protection districts, and public health districts.

ALL during the summer, young eyes have been resting. They have looked on a warm, sunlit world where they were needed not for study, but for guiding the actions of a young body.

But now the school bell calls them back to a big job. They must concentrate on close indoor work, night as well as day. Eye tissues, nerves and muscles must work hard to make up for lack of summer sunlight.

Keep faith with young eyes. If there are any defects in their vision, consult an eye specialist. But above all, give your children adequate, proper, safe light... for studying, working, reading, playing. See that the lamps they use give good light over a wide area... are correctly shaded to protect the eyes from glare.
